

Hailong wang, male, Professor at School of Material Science and Engineering, Zhengzhou University, was born in on October, 1977. He got his B.S. in 2000 in Zhengzhou University of technology. After that he received his M.S. in 2004 and doctorate in 2007 in Zhengzhou University, respectively. She went to Tingshua University in 2005 and Korea Institute of Material Science in 2011 for further research as a visiting scholar. Profess Wang' s research interests include the ultra high temperature ceramics and the super hard materials. In recent years, he has also led/participate in over 10 projects. Such as National Natural Science Foundation of China, The Funding of China Postdoctoral Science Foundation and Science Foundation of Henan Province. Her group published more than 80 papers and has been awarded more than 30 patents in their research field in recent years.